

teencareerquotes

I don't want to be one thing—I want to be everything, and I think that I will have time—Kimberly, Age 19

If I play soccer for my career, I know I will probably stay fit and make staying fit a habit for the rest of my life—Whitney, Age 13

I would love to have a job that makes me feel like I'm making a difference, or gives me a sense of accomplishment—Michelle, Age 13

I don't need a huge paying job. I just want a job that I enjoy going to everyday and something that I won't get sick of three years down the road—Mandi, Age 17

I just want to be one of those people where others say 'Wow. She's really made something of herself'—Morgan, Age 17

I want to, and will be, a maverick with an optimistic perspective on life—Crystal, Age 12

I love musical theatre more than anything else in the world—the first chord in an overture, the smell of the old wood of the stage, the bright lights shining down on the stage. I just want to spend my life involved in the theatre—Maggie, Age 18

I want to make a difference! I want to be a woman engineer and hopefully make an exciting breakthrough in that field—Jean, Age 16

I don't want a career involving hills of paperwork—Deborah, Age 16

As a musician, I know I probably won't be making very much money, but I really don't care about that. I want to be in a career that I love, not just something I can do to get a paycheck—Esther, Age 17

Being a journalist means I would have the opportunity to meet new people and travel to different places, always learning new things along the way—Mallory, Age 15

I think it is important to speak out for those who can't speak out for themselves because the fact that they aren't capable doesn't mean they don't deserve to be treated fairly. Being a civil liberties lawyer is the best way I can think of to help others—Brooke, Age 15